TACOMA – January 13, 2017 – Please join Tacoma Housing Authority (THA) and the Tacoma Urban League, residents and neighbors to celebrate the renovation of Dixon Village Apartments in the South Tacoma Neighborhood.

The event will also rededicate the community to its namesake, Thomas Dixon, and to celebrate his life and achievements. Mr. Dixon has been an influential community voice for over 40 years who helped bring Tacoma into the civil rights era. As part of that work, he led the Tacoma Urban League as its Executive Director for three decades.

The celebration will take place on Wednesday, January 25, 2017, from 3 to 4:30 PM at 5420 S. Stevens St., Tacoma, WA 98409. The program will include remarks from Dixon Village residents, community leaders and THA Commissioners, along with a ribbon cutting, open house and refreshments from local artisans.

Dixon Village is a 32-unit duplex community originally built in 1995. It provides high-quality affordable housing for low-income families. The renovation at Dixon Village cost $4.1 million. It began in August 2016. It includes:

- new windows, siding and roofing, attic insulation, whole-house exhaust fans, exterior doors and hardware
- exterior work includes landscaping, new sidewalks, playground, a new refuse/recycle enclosure, new street lighting and security cameras
- community building interior upgrades and expanded parking
- unit interior upgrades include energy-efficient lighting and plumbing fixtures and flooring

This renovation is part of an ambitious $36 million construction project renovating nine THA communities. This construction is part of an $80 million refinancing that will attend to the capital needs of that portfolio for the next 15 years and help fund still other projects. The financing comes largely from private sources.

Construction Manager/General Contractor: Walsh Construction Company

Architect: Casey + DeChant Architects, LLC

Financing: CitiBank and RBC Capital Markets
